Full lineup TBA

Volunteering is a great way to see first hand how a music festival is run. If you're interested in working at music festivals professionally, volunteering gets your foot in the door. You also meet incredible people, learn new skills, and of course, free music festival tickets.

Expectations

We offer one camping pass per volunteer in staff camping. RVs and campers require additional fees. There will be snacks and refreshments made available for your shift. Additional meals TBD at least one light meal per day.

8 hours of volunteer time is required over the course of the event spread out of multiple shifts. Shifts vary based on position and availability.

Volunteers are required to help promote the event by sharing online promotional materials.

Festival production roles

Gate / Greeters -

Gate staff greets guests as they arrive, checking in guests using tablets supplied by the event. Handing guests an event map and schedule and directing them to their camping area.

Sentry -

Sentries are positioned in designated areas with walkie talkies as our eyes on the event. Helping to direct people to their destinations. While providing hospitality and a safe environment for event goers. Sentries report to security.

Parking -

Parking attendants mainly help with the flow of traffic once inside of the event. Ensuring people are driving to their appropriate locations. Parking reports to operations.

Stage -

Stage crew handles everything concerning stage production. Assisting bands on and off stage helping production crew as needed. We are happy to train future AV technicians as long as it does not interfere with the production of the event. Technical training does not count towards trade hours. Stage reports to Stage Manager

Hospitality / Ambassador of Goodwill -

Walk the property checking with guests to ensure they are comfortable and having a good time. Equipped with walkie talkies and reporting to operations / security as needed. Hospitality reports to security.

Setup / TearDown / Grounds -

Help with setting up stages, signage and other logistics as needed. Ensure the property is litter free during the event and after. Help to pack everything up and ensure the property is left clean. Setup reports to Operations Manager.

Media -

Helping the digital media team as needed. Taking photos, working with a camera, sharing socials during the event. This position reports to Operations Manager
